ARTISANAL FRAGRANCES

Lucknow

How it all began

The founder of our apothecary, 150 years back, Shri Chunnamal Vijayvergiya knew how to entice, excite and create an experience; the sign of a true perfumer.

The House of CMRD spread its wings wide, scoring rarest of rare ingredients, developing a distinct infusion and distillation technique to handcraft uncommon fragrances for the royal houses across Awadh and beyond. It was the discretion with which the nawabs were serviced rapidly became part of the CMRD legend. The unrivalled fragrance formulations along with the lingua franca graced with the ever so famous tehzeeb and nafasat of the city of Lucknow spread, winning discerning patronage across regions.

Over the last century, our fragrance house has managed to build and blossom the business driven by the artistry and perfection of hand blending and not commercial priorities, along with a keen inherited nose, counting 150 years and 6 generations to be precise. What our recipe is, is hard to divulge, but we acknowledge, it is a dream commission.

Who we are today

We are fragrance house dedicated to the creation of unrivalled niche Indian artisanal fragrances of rare notes and blends, backed with family experience of over a century and a half.

Still based in Lucknow, we manufacture and extract many of our own essences using our traditional infusion & distillation technique that captures the complexity and notes of raw and rare ingredients of each blend – a process now foregone as too meticulous in times of machine made. Each essence is still measured, blended and formulated by hand, as it was a century ago.

Perfecting the art of fortunate balance and proportion, our perfumery creates outstanding compositions for today!

What we believe in

Less fake, more real,

Less frill, more essence,

Less everybody, more you!
